About

Carl! What a sweet, handsome fella. ❤■ After spending the past year living in an outdoor kennel, Carl was scheduled to be euthanized. Now that he’s safe with us, we’re getting to know the incredible sweetheart who deserved a chance all along. Carl has come out of his shell so quickly. He loves stretching out and watching everything around him, has done wonderfully in his group of other dogs, and absolutely loves being loved on. When you pet him, he leans right in, soaking up every bit of affection. His hips give him some trouble, so a home with minimal stairs would be best. A comfortable place to rest and someone to love him would mean so much to this gentle boy. We’ll keep loving Carl until his forever family finds him, but we sure hope that day comes soon. After everything he’s been through, he deserves the comfort and love of a home—and someone is missing out on a truly wonderful companion. ■
